Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: In the gospel, it appears that Jesus is taking sides, but the reality is that he offers the same forgiveness to the scribes and Pharisees that he offers to the woman. The ones who are stingy in love and forgiveness, the ones who try to limit the merciful capacity of God, are the ones who are unable to face the love that God offers. The scribes and Pharisees choose their own side. They decide for themselves that they are unable to accept the love that he offers. They insist that they are different from this woman, when they are also sinners in need of God's mercy.

To Experience: As in Jesus' day, there can be a temptation to see sexual sins as worse than all others. Purity culture has convinced many people that our personal value lies in our sexual morality and that our chastity is the most important measure of our spiritual lives. But our value lies in the infinite dignity that God freely gives to us, and our spiritual lives are defined by our participation in God's life. Sex is tricky because it is powerful and can easily distract us from pursuit of God, but it's not the only thing that can make or break our relationship with God.

1. How have you experienced Jesus' forgiveness? How could you extend that forgiveness to others?
2. How could you grow in awareness of your own dependence on God? How might your life change if you truly understood that you are not in control?
3. What great things has God done for you? How does your life reflect gratitude for these wonders?

Dear Friends in Christ,

In the Gospel passage John 8:1-11, we witness a profound narrative that encapsulates Jesus' boundless mercy and his call for personal transformation. The scene unfolds with a woman caught in sin, brought before Jesus by the Scribes and the Pharisees. After her accusers, convicted by their own consciences, depart, Jesus addresses the woman directly, "Neither do I condemn you; Go, and from now on sin no more."

This account serves as a compelling lesson on the importance of compassion and introspection in our daily interactions. The accusers were eager to enforce the law, highlighting the woman's sin while overlooking their own. Jesus' response redirects this judgmental fervor back onto the accusers, prompting them to recognize their own imperfections.

This teaches us that before we pass judgment on others, we must first examine our own lives and acknowledge our shortcomings. By fostering self-awareness, we can approach others with empathy and understanding, creating a more supportive and forgiving community. This approach aligns with the teachings of Christ and healthier relationships.

Spiritually, this passage reveals the depth and the transformative potential of divine mercy. Despite the woman's undeniable guilt, Jesus chooses not to condemn her. Instead, he offers her an opportunity for renewal, instructing her to "Go, and from now on sin no more." He offers a new path forward, free from sin.

This act underscores the principle that God's grace is available to all, regardless of past transgressions. It invites us to accept this mercy wholeheartedly, to turn away from sinful behaviors, and to embark on a path of spiritual growth and holiness. This narrative reassures us that no matter our past, we are not beyond the reach of God's forgiveness and the possibility of a new beginning.

In embracing both the practical lesson of compassionate self-reflection and the spiritual understanding of transformative mercy, we align ourselves more closely with the teaching of Christ. This alignment encourages us to build a more loving and forgiving world, reflecting the boundless grace that has been extended to us.

Blessings,
Fr. Josuwa

GOOD FRIDAY

The Service on Good Friday, April 18, will be at 6pm at Holy Trinity. The later time will give an opportunity for people working during the day to attend, as few companies/businesses are closing in the afternoon. Many area churches will continue to offer the traditional 1pm Service, if that is your preference.

 Stations of the Cross will be prayed, beginning at 5:15pm, prior to the start of the service.

United in Generosity as One Global Family

Amid the harsh conditions of the Sahel region's 1976 drought, millions faced hunger. That same year, Catholics worldwide gathered at the 41st International Eucharistic Congress in Philadelphia, focusing on "The Eucharist and the Hungers of the Human Family." As Lent draws to a close, let's reflect on how our prayers, fasting, and almsgiving can help ensure no one goes hungry in the middle of today's global food crisis. Bible Study

Meets Tuesdays, 9am at Holy Trinity.
One hour sessions: consists of listening to a recording by an informative and entertaining Bible scholar. Casual discussion follows. Delicious baked goods are provided by the exceptional bakers in the group.

Over the past 6 years, the Bible Study group has studied all the historical books of the Bible (quite an accomplishment!)

Beginning April 15, we will be studying the Book of Job, the first of the poetical books of the Bible. For anyone interested in Bible Study, this would be a good time to jump in, as Job is really a stand-
-alone book and no prior knowledge of Bible history is needed.
The message of The Book of Job: Even in the face of profound suffering, we should trust in God's wisdom and character, even when His way seems mysterious and incomprehensible.

Walk to Mary—Saturday, May 3

The Walk to Mary has become a pilgrimage like no other in the world. We start with St. Joseph (at the National Shrine of St. Joseph) and walk to Mary (at the National Shrine of Our Lady of Champion) to get to Jesus. Our annual pilgrimage has impacted lives and filled hearts with many blessings from the Holy Family.

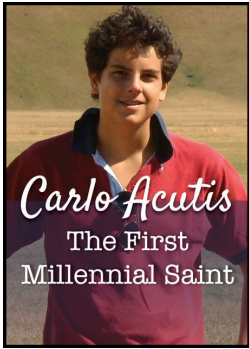

The 21 mile walk spiritually prepares us for our destination – America's only Church-approved Marian apparition site, where in 1859, the Blessed Mother appeared to Adele Brise on the site of the National Shrine of Our Lady of Champion in Champion, Wisconsin.

Options: Walk 21 miles or begin at one of the designated "join in" locations

What if we told you holiness is for everyone?

Are you ready to celebrate the canonization of Blessed Carol Acutis?

Bl. Carlo is the first millennial saint to be canonized, and his story powerfully witnesses extraordinary holiness in an ordinary life. He rose early to attend daily Mass before school, proclaiming the Eucharist as his “highway to Heaven.” He inspired his mother to return to Church. He used technology to catalog Eucharistic miracles and spread the Gospel with as many people as possible.

The universal church will join together to celebrate Bl. Carlo’s canonization on April 27 (Divine Mercy Sunday).

This is the saint for our times. This is the saint we need.

The Boy from Milan Stories of Carlo Acutis

The Boy from Milan features interviews with people who knew and loved Bl. Carlo, including his mother, one of his teachers, and his oncologist. They share how his boundless love for God and those around him inspired their faith, increased their hope, and reminded them that holiness and sainthood are God’s mission for every one of his children.
