Thoughts for Today's Readings

Faith Talk

To the Point: The latter part of the Easter season is all about the Holy Spirit; Jesus promises to send an advocate who will not leave us orphaned. Now, two Sundays after Pentecost, we celebrate another astonishing way that Jesus remains with us after the Ascension. Through the power of that Spirit, he comes fully present at every Mass; his body and blood are really there. While we might envy the disciples who got to walk alongside Jesus in his lifetime, we are given the extraordinary gift of being united with him—deeply and really—at every eucharistic celebration. Eating is one of the few acts that bypasses the barriers of the human body; the closeness is such that even on a molecular level, Jesus becomes part of us. The humility of God joining us in our human condition was an inconceivable gift; the humility of giving his flesh and blood as food and drink continues the mind-bending generosity of our God.

To Experience: The Second Vatican Council calls the Eucharist the "source and summit" of our faith, but its repeatability can make it feel less special or exciting than some of the other sacraments. But Jesus reminds us of the reason for the repeatability; this sacrament is food, and like the food we eat to nourish our physical selves, this meal needs to be repeated for spiritual health and vigor.

1. What is your participation in Eucharist like these days? Do you come to Communion wholeheartedly or out of habit?
2. Mothers live out Jesus' model of giving up his body as food and drink in a special way; pregnancy and breastfeeding are some of the most literal ways one can give up one's body for another. What might your experience of mothering or being mothered teach you about what Jesus is doing in the Eucharist?
3. Who in the church do you find it difficult to understand yourself as being in communion with? How might the Eucharist serve as an invitation to transcend the boundaries between you?

Year of Mary
October 1, 2022 to December 8, 2023

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Peace be with you. This weekend is the annual celebration of the Sunday of the Body and Blood of Christ, also commonly called Corpus Christi. Each Sunday, we celebrate the Eucharist, but this one Sunday of the year is set aside to specifically focus on the belief that the Lord is truly present, body and blood, soul and divinity, in the Eucharist.

The Eucharist is not a symbol. It is a reality.

On the night before he died, Jesus said, "This is my body… this is my blood." And we take his words seriously.

The Catholic Church throughout the United States is in the midst of a Eucharistic Revival called for by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB). Bishop Ricken has published a pastoral letter called Encountering Jesus in the Eucharist for both the Eucharistic Revival and as the next step in his "Disciples on the Way" initiative.

My life was transformed by learning about the Eucharist, and much more importantly, spending time with our Lord, present in the Eucharist, before the tabernacle and during periods of Eucharistic Adoration.

Jesus gives us faith. Jesus is present in the Eucharist. So it follows that spending time in prayer before the Eucharist strengthens one's faith. It doesn't just strengthen it, it sets it on fire.

I want both of these parishes to be vibrant faith-filled communities. When I look at other vibrant parishes, there are always four strong pillars of parish life: 1) a strong devotion to Mary, 2) dedication to reading and studying the Word of God, 3) faithfulness to celebrating the sacrament of Reconciliation (a.k.a. Confession), and 4) most importantly, a strong Eucharistic life.

Do you want these parishes to flourish?

It begins with renewing your relationship with Jesus in the Eucharist. Here are three ways to renew your relationship with the Eucharist: 1) read the bishop's pastoral letter Encountering Jesus in the Eucharist. Both parish websites will have a link where you can access it directly. 2) Be attentive during the celebration of the Mass. The readings for Mass are available in the Word Among Us, in numerous places online, and on various apps on your phone. Read, pray and ponder over these readings in the days leading up to Mass. Ask the Holy Spirit to open your ears and heart to be attentive to the way that the Lord is speaking to you through these words. Arrive at Mass early to give yourself time to pray and to recollect yourself. And lastly, 3) visit the Eucharist often. It used to be normal Catholic practice for people to drop into the church to pray before the tabernacle. This should be a normal practice for today also. The pastoral councils at both parishes are discussing times to make Eucharistic Adoration available so that people can come before the Lord in prayer.

St. Paul wrote, "Eye has not seen, ear has not heard, nor has any heart imagined, what God has prepared for those who love him" (1 Corinthians 2:9). Jesus is waiting in the tabernacle to give you these blessings. Go and meet him there.

Blessings,
Fr. Bill
